AdaptHealth Corp. (“AdaptHealth” or the “Company”) is committed to conducting business lawfully and ethically. No code of conduct can hope to spell out the appropriate moral conduct and ethical behavior for every situation we may confront. In the final analysis, we rely on our own good judgment. This Code establishes the general guidelines with which all Covered Persons must comply to ensure that their conduct conforms to the highest ethical standards and is in accordance with all applicable laws, rules, and regulations. These general guidelines are not meant to cover all situations. In cases when a Covered Person doubts the propriety of a situation, whether the situation is described within this Code, the Covered Person has an obligation to consult with a supervisor, the Corporate Compliance Department, and if necessary, the Company’s legal counsel. This Code is the core component of the Company’s overall Corporate Compliance Program.

Every Covered Person is required to understand and comply fully with both the rules and approval procedures established by this Code. The standards of conduct that govern AdaptHealth’s relationship with the government are applicable to each Covered Person whether the Covered Person is directly engaged in performing activities relevant to any federal, state, or private contracts. Covered Persons are expected to assist in the protection of all confidential information, including technical, financial, customer, personnel, marketing, patient records, and other business information, which, if made available to AdaptHealth’s competitors or the public, would be advantageous to such competitors and detrimental to AdaptHealth or subject the Covered Person and AdaptHealth to violations of the law. Protection of such information is critical to our ability to grow, operate, compete, and comply with all applicable laws.

Dealing Honestly with Customers, Other Suppliers & Consultants

1. Quality of Service – AdaptHealth is committed to providing quality customer service and patient care that meets all federal and state expectations and AdaptHealth’s quality standards.
2. Professional Licenses – AdaptHealth maintains all professional certifications and credentials required by AdaptHealth policy as well as federal, state, and local authority. Employees are expected to complete all requisite course work to maintain their professional certifications including, but not limited to attendance at live training sessions, competency training, course work, and written assessments as required.
3. Employees must provide evidence of current certifications. Anyone who does not maintain required certifications is prohibited from providing clinical care to AdaptHealth’s patients. Employees or contractors not compliant with the policy are subject to corrective action up to and including termination of employment or contract.
4. Contract Negotiation – AdaptHealth has an affirmative duty to disclose current, accurate and complete cost and pricing data where such data is required under appropriate federal or state law or regulation. Covered Persons involved in the pricing of contract proposals, or the negotiation of a contract must ensure the accuracy, completeness and currency of all data generated and given to supervisors and other Covered Persons and all representations made to customers, both government and commercial. The submission of information a federal government customer of a representation, quotation, statement or certification that is false, incomplete or misleading can result in civil and/or criminal liability for AdaptHealth, the involved Covered Person and any supervisors who condone such a practice.
5. Competitive Analysis – In conducting market analyses, AdaptHealth’s Covered Persons do not accept or use information known to be proprietary to one of our competitors. Covered Persons ensure that a competitor’s proprietary information is not improperly obtained or used in any improper fashion.
6. Antitrust Issues – The free enterprise system rests on the proposition that free and open competition is the best way to ensure an adequate supply of goods and services at reasonable prices. The antitrust laws of the U.S. are intended to protect and promote vigorous and fair competition. All Covered Persons adhere strictly to both the spirit and the letter of the antitrust laws of the U.S. and with all such laws governing competition in any country in which AdaptHealth does business. Violation of antitrust laws can result in severe civil and criminal penalties, including imprisonment for individuals, and AdaptHealth can be subjected to substantial fines and damage awards.

The following summary of antitrust law principles is intended to assist in the understanding of the basic antitrust regulations, and to recognize the types of business situations where these laws may be applicable. This summary is not intended to be a complete statement of all aspects and interpretations of the antitrust laws and cannot be regarded as a substitute for professional legal advice. Any question as to whether a proposed course of action would involve a violation of the antitrust laws must be cleared in advance by the Corporate Compliance Department. Depending on the complexity of the situation, legal guidance may be obtained.

Agreements with Competitors. Contacts with competitors are sensitive and risky since courts can infer an agreement or collusion from such contacts when they are followed by common action or behavior. In all contact with competitors, Covered Persons avoid discussing prices, terms and conditions of sale, costs, inventories, competition, marketing plans or studies, production plans and capabilities, and any other proprietary or confidential information.

Sub-contracting Arrangements. In order to meet compliance with DMEPOS Competitive Bid contractual obligations or other governmental or non-governmental obligations, AdaptHealth periodically may enter into sub-contracting arrangements with other providers of durable medical equipment. The intent of the sub-contractor arrangement is not to restrict competition within a certain market space, and the terms of the agreement should not extend beyond the scope of patient services as required by the Competitive Bid program or other obligation. In addition to obtaining all required corporate consents, any sub-contracting arrangements is approved by the Chief Compliance Officer and General Counsel.

Other than the need to transition a patient to another supplier or similar routine business situation, Covered Persons consult with the Chief Compliance Officer and General Counsel when planning to contact a competitor. Likewise, if any competitor initiates a discussion involving the prohibited conduct above, the Covered Person reports the matter to their direct manager, Chief Compliance Officer or General Counsel.

Unless approved in advance by the Chief Compliance Officer and General Counsel, Covered Persons generally avoid all contacts with competitors if they have authority over the pricing, terms or conditions of sale of AdaptHealth products or services.

In order to minimize the risk of violation of the antitrust laws or the appearance of violation in connection with dealing with competitors:

A. Covered Persons do not enter into any understanding or agreement, whether expressed or implied, formal or informal, written or oral, with a competitor limiting or restricting any of the following aspects of the competitive strategy of either party or of the business offering of either party to any third party or parties any of the following:

- Prices
- Costs
- Profits
- Offerings
- Service or products
- Terms or conditions of sale

Last Updated 10/29/2021

- Deliveries
 - Production facilities or capacity sales volume
 - Market
 - Sales territories
 - Customer or supplier classifications, or selections, or
 - Distribution methods or channels
- B. Covered Persons do not discuss with a competitor any of AdaptHealth internal prices, terms or conditions of sale, or any subject that might affect prices, directly or indirectly.
- C. Covered Persons do not provide or accept from a competitor past, present or future price lists or other published terms or conditions of sale (Note: It is generally legal to obtain information on competitive price schedules, from sources other than competitors. On such information, the date received and the source from which the information was obtained is recorded, and the recipient should initial it. This will later provide an explanation that the information was obtained legally).
- D. Covered Persons do not enter into discussions with competitors from which it might be inferred there was an understanding that one company would not compete with the other in a territorial market, for certain customers or customer classes, or in the sale of particular products.
- E. Covered Persons do not discuss refusals to sell to a customer or to buy from a supplier with anyone outside AdaptHealth.

Agreements with Customers. A number of antitrust issues can arise in relationships between a company and its customers, especially if those customers are in the business of reselling any products or services sold or provided to the customer by the Company. In order to minimize the risk of violation of the antitrust laws or the appearance of violation in connection with dealing with customers:

- A. Covered Persons deal fairly and openly with all AdaptHealth's customers and suppliers.
- B. Covered Persons do not use coercive practices in any relationship with AdaptHealth's customers. Covered Persons never threaten termination for any reason other than good faith enforcement of AdaptHealth's contractual rights.
- C. Covered Persons do not pressure suppliers to purchase AdaptHealth's services and products because AdaptHealth purchases their products and services.

Trade Associations. Trade associations provide a vehicle for industry members to meet and work together to improve the industry. However, trade associations have no exemption from the antitrust laws. If at a trade association meeting a matter is brought up that should not be discussed with a competitor, it can be used by the government in proving an unlawful agreement or understanding. If competitively sensitive subjects come up during trade association meetings, Covered Persons ensure that their departure be noted in the minutes, and leave the meeting.

Mergers, Acquisitions, and Joint-Ventures. The antitrust laws also regulate business combinations, such as mergers, acquisitions, and joint-ventures. Before serious discussions or negotiations begin on any acquisition, regardless of structure, legal counsel is consulted and AdaptHealth makes the required filings with governmental agencies.

7. Anti-Kickback and False Claims Issues – Federal and state laws prohibit AdaptHealth and its Covered Persons from offering or accepting any form of remuneration, including a kickback, bribe, or rebate, directly or indirectly to an entity or person to induce that customer or potential customer (including physicians, hospitals, or other provider/suppliers) to purchase, lease, order, arrange for, or recommend services from or to refer a patient to AdaptHealth. In addition, there are laws that prohibit the filing of false and fraudulent claims, such as the Federal False Claims Act, to both governmental and private third-party payors.

Examples of the types of actions that could violate the federal Anti-Kickback Statute (the “Anti-kickback Statute”) and similar state anti-kickback laws include the following:

- A. Offering or paying anything of value to induce someone to refer a patient to AdaptHealth;
- B. Offering or paying anything of value to induce someone to purchase services from AdaptHealth;
- C. Soliciting or receiving anything of value for the referral of AdaptHealth patients; or
- D. Offering free goods or services to induce the person or entity to purchase or order any items or services from AdaptHealth.

Questions involving the Anti-Kickback Statute and its relation to any existing or proposed financial relationship (including a contract, joint venture arrangement or marketing program) are directed to AdaptHealth’s Chief Compliance Officer and General Counsel.

Examples of the types of actions that could violate the federal False Claims Act and other federal false billing laws include:

- A. Filing a claim for services that were not rendered at all or were not rendered as described on the claims form;
 - B. Filing a claim for services that were rendered, but were medically unnecessary;
 - C. Submitting a claim containing information you know to be false; or
 - D. Falsifying documentation in support of a claim, including, for example, certificates of medical necessity; or
 - E. Assisting a customer in submitting a false or fraudulent claim; or
 - F. Misusing Social Security or Medicare symbols, emblems or names in marketing.
8. Providing Business Courtesies to Customers or Sources of Customers – AdaptHealth’s success results from providing the highest quality patient care, ethical standards, and integrity with outstanding customer support services.

Last Updated 10/29/2021

AdaptHealth does not seek to gain an improper advantage by offering business courtesies such as entertainment, meals, transportation or lodging to potential referral sources or purchasers of any items or services furnished by AdaptHealth. In light of the Anti-Kickback Statute and other federal and state laws, Covered Persons do not offer any type of business courtesy to a referral source or purchaser for the purpose of obtaining favorable treatment or advantage or to induce such person or entity to purchase or order any items or service from AdaptHealth. Business courtesies of any amount offered, provided, or solicited as an inducement to refer patients or business, or as a reward for such referrals are prohibited.

To avoid even the appearance of impropriety, other than pre-approved functions, Covered Persons do not provide any referral source or purchaser with any gifts, meals, or promotional items with a value greater than $429 (Stark Law annual limit) without the express approval of AdaptHealth's Chief Compliance Officer or General Counsel. Any Covered Person may provide or pay travel or lodging expenses of a customer or potential referral service only with the advance approval of the Chief Compliance Officer or General Counsel.

9. Stark Law – The federal Stark Law or physician self-referral law prohibits a physician or their immediate family members from referring a Medicare or Medicaid beneficiaries to any entity providing designated health services if they have a financial relationship with the entity. Similar state laws apply to private and third-party payors. AdaptHealth does not currently have any physician referral ownership. Any request made by a physician referral source or their immediate family members, are escalated to the Chief Compliance Officer or General Counsel for consideration.
10. Government Health Care Program Agreements – On a regular basis, AdaptHealth is a party to agreements with governmental health care programs such as the Medicare or Medicaid programs. It is essential that all Covered Persons are knowledgeable of, and comply with, all the applicable laws, rules, and regulations of all such governmental agencies. Billing personnel also must comply with AdaptHealth's Corporate Policy on Reimbursement and Billing Policies and Procedures. Any Covered Persons who may have a concern or a question concerning compliance with any governmental contract or subcontract consult with their supervisor or the Chief Compliance Officer.

Covered Persons do not provide or pay for any meal, refreshment, and entertainment, travel or lodging expenses for government employees or representatives without the prior approval of the Chief Compliance Officer or General Counsel. State, local and foreign governmental bodies may also have restrictions on the provision of business courtesies, including meals and refreshments. AdaptHealth's Covered Persons doing business with such governmental bodies are expected to know and respect all such restrictions.

11. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act – Covered Persons who do business in foreign countries often become aware of customs involving the exchange of gifts or the paying of certain fees. It is AdaptHealth's policy to comply with applicable laws on these matters, particularly the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act. This law restricts payments to officials of foreign government, political parties, and candidates for office. Generally, "illegal payments" are any bribes, commissions, rebates, kickbacks, consulting or other service fees, special discounts, certain entertainment, and other transfers of money or any other form of value where it is known, or reasonably suspected, that the payment or transfer is to reward a foreign official for obtaining or retaining business for AdaptHealth. Payments made to foreign officials are equally illegal when made through an intermediary or consultant, rather than directly.

Whenever an independent commission agent, sales consultant, or a similar representative is retained with respect to any business outside the US, a written commission agreement specifically approved by the Chief Compliance Officer or General Counsel is signed by an authorized member of AdaptHealth senior management and by the representative. Negotiating and approving these arrangements are performed with care, and there is full disclosure to the Chief Compliance Officer or General Counsel of all facts and circumstances.

Ultimately, each Covered Person exercises good business judgment in deciding which situations are unacceptable. Bottom line: If there is ever any doubt as to the acceptability of any gift or entertainment activity, Covered Persons consult with their supervisor, the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Compliance Officer or the General Counsel.

Financial Integrity

1. Financial Recording – AdaptHealth requires honest and accurate recording and reporting of financial information in order to make responsible business decisions. All financial books, records and accounts must accurately reflect transactions and events and conform to generally accepted accounting principles and to AdaptHealth's system of internal controls. It is the policy of the Company to provide full, fair, accurate, timely and understandable disclosure in reports and documents filed with, or submitted to, the SEC and in other public communications.
2. Examples of unethical financial or accounting practices include, but are not limited to:
 - A. Making false entries that intentionally hide or disguise the true nature of any transaction.
 - B. Improperly accelerating or deferring the recording of expenses or revenues to achieve financial results or goals.
 - C. Maintaining any undisclosed or unrecorded funds or "off the books" assets.
 - D. Establishing or maintaining improper, misleading, incomplete or fraudulent account documentation or financial reporting.
 - E. Signing any document believed to be inaccurate or untruthful.

Concerns Regarding Accounting or Auditing Matters

Last Updated 10/29/2021

All covered persons have the responsibility to report any concerns regarding questionable or fraudulent accounting or auditing matters or complaints regarding accounting, internal accounting controls or auditing matters. Our Chief Executive Officer and officers in Finance and Accounting have additional responsibilities. Concerns may be reported confidentially, and anonymously, or submit such concerns or complaints in writing to the Company's General Counsel, Chief Compliance Officer and/or Audit Committee Chairperson c/o AdaptHealth Corp., or the Compliance and Business Ethics Helpline 1-844-256-8560, where covered person can leave a recorded message. Avoiding Abuses of Trust

AdaptHealth expects its Covered Persons not to engage in any activity that might interfere, detract or conflict, or appear to interfere, detract or conflict, with AdaptHealth's best interest or the interests of AdaptHealth's customers or suppliers.

1. Conflicts of Interest – All Covered Persons have a responsibility to avoid situations and relationships that involve actual or potential conflicts of interest. Generally, a conflict of interest arises whenever a Covered Person's personal interests diverge from his or her responsibilities to AdaptHealth or from AdaptHealth's best interests. Put another way, a conflict of interest is created whenever an activity, association, or relationship of a Covered Person might impair independent exercise of judgment in the Company's best interest. Examples of situations that could be perceived as conflicts of interest and should be avoided include, but are not limited to:
 - A. Conducting Company business with a firm that is owned partially owned or controlled by a Covered Person or a Covered Person's relatives or friends.
 - B. Covered Persons placed in a position where they are in competition with AdaptHealth or take for themselves or others an opportunity that belongs to AdaptHealth.
 - C. Working as an employee or a consultant for a competitor, regulatory governmental entity, customer, or supplier of AdaptHealth, or doing any work for a third party that may adversely affect the Covered Person's performance or judgment on the job or diminish the ability to devote the necessary time and attention to duties.
 - D. Using Company property, materials, supplies, funds, or other resources for personal purposes, or appropriating or diverting to others any business opportunity or idea in which AdaptHealth might have interest.
 - E. Accepting, directly or indirectly, payments, services, or loans from a supplier, contractor, subcontractor, customer, or organization doing business, expecting to do business, or competing with AdaptHealth. To avoid even the appearance of impropriety, the only exceptions to this rule are infrequent promotional gifts for nominal value ($37 or less), or infrequent entertainment personally hosted by a vendor representative (such as a restaurant meal) in conjunction with business discussions. Gifts of cash are absolutely prohibited. Covered Persons must refuse or return any improper gratuity.

2. Personal Conflicts of Interest – Direct reporting or co-working relationships involving relatives or significant others in any capacity, whether by contract or through an outside service agency, may create conflicts of interest potentially harmful to both the Company and the Covered Persons involved and are generally discouraged.

These situations, and others like them, where loyalties to AdaptHealth could be compromised, must be avoided. Covered Persons who believe they are involved in a potential conflict of interest have a responsibility to discuss it with their supervisor or the Legal Department.

3. Media and Investor Inquiries – This prohibition applies specifically, but is not exclusive to, inquiries about the Company, which may be made by the media, or non-Company attorneys. All such communications on behalf of the company are made only through an appropriately designated individual under carefully controlled circumstances. If a Covered Person receives any inquiry related to the Company, whether from the media, a non-Company attorney or otherwise, the Covered person declines comments and refers the inquiry to either the Communications Department or the Legal Department.
4. Government Proprietary and Source Selection Information – AdaptHealth does not solicit, nor receives any sensitive proprietary internal government information, including budgetary, program or source selection information, before it is available through normal processes.

Discrimination/Harassment

AdaptHealth strives to maintain a healthy, safe, and productive work environment which is free from discrimination or harassment based on race, color, religion, national origin, age, gender, sexual orientation, or disability, or other factors that are unrelated to AdaptHealth legitimate business interests. AdaptHealth will not tolerate sexual advances, actions, or comments or racial or religious slurs, jokes or any other comments or conduct in the workplace that create, encourage, or permit an offensive, intimidating, or inappropriate work environment.

Reporting to the Executive Committee

At least quarterly, the Chief Compliance Officer, or their designee, will report to the AdaptHealth Executive Committee regarding status of the Company's compliance program.

Reporting Violations and Discipline

Last Updated 10/29/2021

A Covered Person's conduct can reinforce an ethical atmosphere and positively influence the conduct of fellow employees. Covered Persons proactively promote ethical behavior as a responsible employee or officer among those people in their work environment. Covered Persons who may feel powerless to stop suspected misconduct or discover it after it has occurred, are obligated to report the conduct to the appropriate level of management. Misconduct is not excused because it was directed or requested by another. In this regard, Covered Persons are expected to alert management whenever an illegal, dishonest or unethical act is discovered or suspected.

Strict adherence to this Code is vital. Supervisors are responsible for ensuring that Covered Persons are aware of and adhere to the provisions of this Code. For clarification or guidance on any point in this Code, Covered Persons are to consult with the Corporate Compliance Department.

Covered Persons who are aware of or suspect a violation of this Code or other irregularities are expected to report these alleged violations as quickly as possible but in all events within five (5) working days.

Reports can be made through the appropriate channels provided under the heading "How to File A Report" listed below. Covered Persons will not be disciplined or otherwise retaliated against as a result of reporting such conduct. This protection is explained more fully under the heading "Retaliation". No adverse action or retribution of any kind will be taken by AdaptHealth against a Covered Person because he or she reports a suspected violation of this Code or other irregularity by any person. All reports must contain sufficient information for the Chief Compliance Officer to investigate the concerns raised. AdaptHealth will attempt to treat such reports confidentially. (See General Compliance Policy CP-03 for Reporting/Investigation Noncompliance.)

Upon receipt of credible reports of suspected violations or irregularities, the Corporate Compliance Department shall immediately begin a detailed investigation and take corrective action where appropriate. Violations of this Code may result in discipline ranging from warnings and reprimand to discharge or, where appropriate the filing of a civil or criminal complaint. Disciplinary decisions will be made by operational management in accordance with the AdaptHealth Corrective Action Plan and are subject to review by the Chief Compliance Officer, General Counsel and V.P./Human Resources. Covered Persons will be informed of the charges against them and will be given the opportunity to state their position before disciplinary actions are imposed.

1. Consequences of Noncompliance – Any person who ignores or violates this Code or any of the Company's ethical standards or other policies, including failures to report potential violations by others, will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.
2. Retaliation – Any person who takes any action in retaliation against any Covered Person who has in good faith raised any question or concern about compliance with this Code will be subject to serious sanctions, which may include dismissal for cause. Covered Persons who suspect that they or someone they know has been retaliated against for reporting possible misconduct are expected to contact their supervisor, manager, Human Resources representative, the Corporate Compliance Department, or the anonymous AdaptHealth Hotline at 1-844-256-8560.

3. Waivers – In general, the granting of waivers is discouraged. Any Covered Person who believes that an exception to any of these guidelines is appropriate should contact his or her immediate supervisor. The supervisor must bring such request to the attention of the Corporate Compliance Department promptly. Any waiver must be granted in writing. All waivers for the principal executive officer, principal financial officer, principal accounting officer or controller, persons performing similar functions, or any other executive officers, and all waivers for directors, must be granted by the Board of Directors of the Company (the “Board”) and disclosed on a Form 8-K publicly filed with the SEC or otherwise disclosed on the Company’s website in accordance with Form 8-K.

How to File A Report

Covered Persons have many options for seeking compliance advice or reporting misconduct. Covered Persons can directly contact their supervisor, manager, Human Resources Department, or the Corporate Compliance Department. Additionally, suspected violations may be reported through the Company’s confidential and anonymous Compliance Hotline at 844-256-8560. The hotline is screened through a third-party hotline service to insure confidentiality and anonymity.

In addition to this policy, the phone number, email address, and web address for the hotline can be found on the Company’s intranet site, on posters hanging in common areas, or other employee communications located throughout the workplace.

Limitation on Effect of Code of Ethics and Business Conduct

Nothing contained in this Code, or the Corporate Compliance Program is to be construed or interpreted to create a contract of employment, either express or implied, nor is anything contained in this Code intended to alter a person’s status of employment with AdaptHealth or collective bargaining agreements if applicable.

Reservation of Rights

AdaptHealth reserves the right to amend this Code and the Corporate Compliance Program, in whole or in part, at any time and solely at its discretion.

Disciplinary Consequences

1. AdaptHealth places great importance in this Code. All Covered Persons are obliged to be fully compliant and follow procedures as written.

3. Deliberate, unauthorized disclosure of confidential information may result in civil and/or criminal penalties.

Questions and Reporting

1. Covered Persons with questions regarding this Code are expected to contact their manager, supervisor, or the Corporate Compliance Department.
